Concerts take place at
The Kosciuszko Foundation
15 East 65th Street, NYC

Sundays at 5pm
Mondays at 7pm
The experience of intimate chamber music is an extraordinary event where we join the musical conversation by being close enough to sense the performers’ every gesture and interpretive nuance. Over the past year we have all encountered much of the world from afar. This season, come and delight in the irreplaceable joy of being at the center of live music.

Join us at helicon.org/membership

• Helicon membership includes admission for two to each symposium in the Sunday or Monday Series.
• Membership contributions include a tax-deductible portion.
• Additional guest admissions and reserved seating are a benefit of higher membership levels.
• Helicon symposiums take place in the charming music room of the Kosciuszko Foundation Mansion, 15 East 65th Street.
• Each symposium is offered on Sundays at 5pm or Mondays at 7pm.
• Symposia are accompanied by an elegant champagne reception.
SUPPORT HELICON BY BECOMING A SPONSOR!

Helicon is offering members the opportunity to personally support individual facets of our events. We invite you to share your excitement for particular repertoire by underwriting a symposium. You can also choose a beloved artist to promote, provide for a special instrument, or host a symposium reception. To join the circle of Helicon partners please speak with artistic director, Avi Stein. Sponsors will be included as part of the symposium program and receive acknowledgement and behind the scenes access to the creative rehearsal process.

“In its beginnings, music was merely chamber music, meant to be listened to in a small space by a small audience.”

-Gustav Mahler
